BLUE ORCHID HANDBAGS...IS ONE ENOUGH?

Cleveland, Ohio (May 12, 2008) – Jacqueline Adamany, handbag designer and owner of Blue Orchid Handbags, has just announced the launch of her online boutique, <http://www.blueorchidhandbags.com>. This new boutique features handcrafted handbags which appeal to women of all ages and focuses on fresh, fun and creative looks.

No newcomer to the design world, Jacqueline has extensive experience in visual communications and graphic design developing marketing collateral for companies across the United States. She now focuses her talents in a new medium...fabric. Her philosophy, "...a wonderful bag that has personality and style should be in every woman's closet. I design for the woman who appreciates creative style and fresh designs. My bags are for all women regardless of age. I search for fabrics that are appealing both visually and by touch."

Each bag is handcrafted in her studio and is both functional as it is versatile. You will find that you can wear any of the handbags with jeans as well as work or evening wear. Jacqueline strives to create handbags that reflect and communicate the personality of the woman holding it. You work hard for your money...you deserve something for yourself.
